Action Guide

Steve Rodgers

1. Find your Motivation

Steve talks about how it is important to have other things to motivate you once the money stops being your driving force. For many people it is their religion or family. It is vital that we can use this when the times get difficult, to spur us on.

How Does It Apply?

Write down below what you think is your motivation other than money. Try to keep yourself reminded of this all the time.

2. Become what you want to be

Steve explains how many people talk about 'what they want to be when they grow up'. If you're not happy about what you are doing and are dreaming of doing something different, the time to start on that road is NOW. Steve believes that once you start doing something that is meant to be, the world conspires to make it happen right away.

How Does It Apply?

What is it that you really want to do? Write down below what you want to 'do when you're grown up' and write down what you can do right now to get started.

3. Nurture your Relationships

Steve describes how relationships that he had made throughout his life have helped him in improving his future. Nurturing relationships with other people mean not only that they can help you, but also that you can help them.

How Does It Apply?

Write down below your ideas about how you can help to nurture relationships with people who are important to you in your life.
