Action Guide

Sarah P. Condor

1. Get out and Meet People

Sarah talks about how it is important to get out and meet people. You shouldn't be worried about meeting people who you think are 'above' you – they probably just have a little more experience than you, and have a lot that they can teach you.

How Does It Apply?

Write down below some people who you think that you could benefit from meeting and chatting with. Now write down how you think you can get in touch with them.

2. Take a Different Approach

Sarah explains how she managed success in so many areas of her life, because when she came up against an obstacle, and couldn't get round it, she took a different approach.

How Does It Apply?

Write down below what problems you are currently having. How can you look at the problem differently to resolve it?

3. Learn from Inspiring People

Sarah describes how she finds inspiration in all kinds of people – not just famous people or celebrities. We meet inspirational people every day in our lives.

How Does It Apply?

Write down below some people who you find inspiring and what you find inspiring about them. Try and use this as a base to help you to keep motivated and pushing to make yourself better.
